WHY TWO PLATFORMS CAN'T RUN REAL ESTATE

One platform that learns.
Or two that argue.

Real estate doesn't fit cleanly into a CRM tool plus a finance tool, with an integrator stitching them together. Channel partner attribution, RERA filings, escrow ledgers, cancellations, customer apps — these don't fail inside the modules. They fail in the gap between them. And the gap doesn't get smaller over time. It gets more expensive.

▸ THE FARVISION ANSWER

One platform that learns from 600+ builders — and brings that compounding domain knowledge back to your business, 300–400 enhancements every year.

01

One business, one ledger.

Sales and finance see the same number. Not two systems arguing at month-end through an integrator. Not three vendors pointing at each other when reconciliation breaks.

02

Compounding domain knowledge.

Every RERA wrinkle, every escrow rule, every cancellation pattern — absorbed once, available to all 600+ developers running on Farvision. 300–400 real-estate-specific advances every year.

03

The integration is the audit risk.

Brokerage attribution, RERA filings, 26QB, cancellations — these don't fail in the modules. They fail between them. One platform, one audit trail, no integrator in the middle.

04

Built for the work.

Real estate-native from 1996. Not a generic ERP rebadged for construction. Not a sales tool with a finance bolt-on. The domain shaped the system.

THE TWO-PLATFORM PATH

Generic finance + sales tool, stitched together

- Brokerage in sales tool · paid from finance · reconciled in Excel
- RERA filings cross two databases · quarterly fire-drill
- Cancellations break in three places — sales, finance, customer app
- Generic AI · broad knowledge · zero real estate depth
- 18–24 month implementation · three vendors accountable

THE ONE-PLATFORM PATH · FARVISION

Real estate-native · 600+ builders compounding back

- Brokerage attributed at lead, auto-released on collection · one ledger
- RERA · escrow · 26QB · GST · TDS · all built-in, all reconciled
- Cancellations roll back cleanly · refund workflow built-in
- Agentic AI trained on real estate · acts, compounds, gets sharper
- 300–400 real-estate-specific advances every year

▸ The proof — some of our customers tried the two-platform path. They came back. The reason was always architecture and learning curve, not feature parity.

END-TO-END DEVELOPER FLOW

One platform, eight stages.
Land bank to handover.

The end-to-end real estate developer flow on Farvision — eight stages, six modules underneath, four apps and three portals on top. Same database from the day land is acquired to the day society is handed over.
